WINNIPEG — A one-day forum that shines the national spotlight on the local commercial real estate market got underway this morning in Winnipeg.

About 470 people, including about 120 from outside the province, were registered to attend the event at the Fort Garry Hotel.

With a lineup that includes 45 speakers and 11 presentations and panel discussions, the forum is designed to provide investors, property owners, developers, and financiers with insight on trends, issues, strategies and opportunities in the Winnipeg market.

This is the first time MMPI Canada, a Toronto firm that has been staging real estate forums in Canada since 1992, has held one in Winnipeg.
