

We're Hiring a Hotel General Manager

Schinkel Properties is looking for a proven leader to oversee one of our hotel operations. This role is suited for someone who understands that strong performance starts with strong teams. You'll be responsible for leading daily operations, developing staff, and delivering a consistent, high-quality guest experience.

We're a hands-on organization with a long-term ownership mindset—meaning you'll have the opportunity to make real decisions, drive results, and take ownership of your property.

If you're ready to step into a leadership role where your impact is visible, measurable, and valued—we'd like to connect.
